

Concrete Hoppers

Concrete Hopper - The self-dumping hopper attachment can automatically start to both unload and release as the bumper release contacts the side of a dumpster. After unloading is finished, the hopper is able to go back to original locked and upright position. This piece of equipment likewise comes together with a cable that enables operation from the seat of the lift truck so as to have the choice of manually dumping the hopper. There is a locking chain provided to secure the hopper to the fork truck. This particular product is constructed with consistent and reliable robotic welds for utmost strength. The forklift dumping hopper even has a blue powder coat finish to be able to maintain durability.
